

The Provident Social Impact Fund (Scotland) 2019 Guidance Notes

Foundation Scotland is proud to have a new grants programme, working with Provident Financial Group. As part of Provident's commitment to Scotland, we are delighted to launch a second round of the Provident Social Impact Fund (Scotland) which aims to support social inclusion. The programme will invest in activities that seek to alleviate the underlying problems that prevent social inclusion and enjoyment of a full modern life. The Fund will distribute £25,000 in grants, between £1,000 and £5,000.

Fund Details

Priority will be given to small, community organisations in areas of social, financial and welfare disadvantage.

Size of Grant:

The minimum request is £1,000. The maximum is £5,000. Whilst the grant can be used to part-fund a wide range of activities, we like to see the impact our support is having. Accordingly, we prefer for our grant to be at least 50% or more of the total cost within the criteria specified below. Only one application per organisation can be considered.

What can the Fund support?

Projects should meet one of the following themes:

- Improving people's personal finance capabilities (debt and financial advice/education)
- Improving physical and/or mental health
- Providing support which enhances, creates and sustains positive family relationships

- Addressing issues of low educational attainment and improving learning outcomes
- Providing people with opportunities to reduce inequality, exclusion and disadvantage, including projects which increase access to employment.

Types of activities that can be funded

The grants panel will look to fund projects and activities that are addressing need identified through consultation and/or engagement with potential beneficiaries and have a clear focus on the positive results they plan to achieve. Projects need to be inclusive of people in the locality regardless of their background, offer wider benefit and be cost effective.

When can you apply?

The fund opens Tuesday 3rd September 2019 and the deadline to apply is 12pm Tuesday 15th October 2019. To be fair to everyone that meets the deadline we cannot accept late submissions of applications and/or supporting documents.

Funding will be awarded in December 2019.

Grant Making

How do you apply for a grant?

To apply you need to complete an online application form available from HERE. You will also need to submit required documentation as set out in the online application guidelines and Foundation Scotland's Terms & Conditions.

We expect this programme to be highly oversubscribed so we recommend you also seek alternative sources of funding for your project to avoid disappointment.

We strongly suggest you submit your application at your earliest opportunity as we may have to close the fund earlier than deadline depending on volume due to the limited funding available.

Incomplete applications won't be considered therefore you must double check you have submitted ALL the required supporting documents as we are unable to chase every applicant that fails to do so.

What happens after you've applied?

We will assess your application and may need to contact you and your referee during this time. Any community groups seeking funding by way of a grant from the Fund will submit a full application to Foundation Scotland which will be subject to Foundation Scotland's standard internal assessment procedures. Foundation Scotland reserves the right to make any necessary further enquiries about the applicant. This assessment will take place prior to any group being submitted to the Fund grants panel for approval.

Monitoring

If you are successful, the grant offer email will include any additional conditions set by the panel and/or the grant payment. The grant must be spent within 12 months of the date of our offer confirming the grant. You must also complete an end of grant monitoring report telling us how the grant has been spent and what was achieved. The deadline for doing so will be specified in your offer letter. Please note that failure to provide appropriate monitoring information will exclude your organisation from applying to future Provident grants schemes and to any Foundation Scotland programmes.

If your bid is not successful, we will let you know the reasons for declining it. Please note we have limited funding available and we are not able to fund every application we receive, no matter how deserving the project is. The decisions made by the grants panel are final.

Publicity

If your application is successful, you will be required to credit support from the Provident Social Impact Fund (Scotland), and Foundation Scotland, on all materials related to the funded work. Successful projects will be required to be available for a potential monitoring visit from funders.
